Lloyd George Faces Critical Situation

Paris. — La Homme Libre, discussing the appeal of President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Orlando to Premier Lloyd George, that he remain in Paris until the chief questions connected with peace should be settled, emphasizes that the critical situation in Great Britain arising from labor troubles which the British premier is facing, is sufficient to explain his impatience to return to London. The newspaper adds that Lloyd George is confronted to a greater extent than any other government head with the duty of establishing peace and serving the interests of the working classes.

On the morrow of the great European conflict and the eve of a new era, which imperatively demands racial unity," L'Homme Libre says, "Great Britain is in the throes of internal dissensions. Mr. Lloyd George is anxious to continue his journey fully as he is to preserve control among the people of Great Britain. Both of these aims are inseparably linked."

Would Like Blockade Raised

Is of No Value to British Government.

LONDON. — In the house of commons Sir Frederick Bannister, private secretary, warned the government that a continuance of the present financial methods meant, eventually, national bankruptcy. Other speakers complained that continued war permitted the United States to step in and capture British trade abroad.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, replying to critics, said that the government was trying to abolish control as quickly as was safe. The export of goods was free to every part of the world, except the blockade countries, he declared, and in this case restrictions were maintained for reasons of inter-allied policy. The house, he believed, would hardly assume responsibility for acting in opposition to Great Britain's allies.

Mr. Chamberlain said he was advised that it was not a fact that goods were being sent to blockade countries. British goods were not admitted. What the United States had done was to block orders and give no clearance for goods to be delivered when the blockade was raised. It was open to British manufacturers to do the same.

The sooner the blockade could be raised, he said, the better the government would be pleased, and it would gratify the government if Germany could draw some of her supply through neutral countries.

Visitors to Germany Require Permit
Berlin. — Because of the great number of military and civil entente missions which have visited Germany since November, the German cabinet has decided, according to the Kreuz Zeitung, that no persons from an allied country will henceforth be permitted to travel in Germany without special permission from the armistice commission.

More Rum for Britain
Kingston, Jamaica. — The legislative council is considering an income tax bill which would impose a tax on all insurance and shipping companies doing business here. Jamaica. As a result of the withdrawal of embargo restrictions, arrangements are being made to ship $2,000,000 worth of rum to the United Kingdom.

Force Along Rhine Must Be Retained

London. — During debate in committee of the house of commons on the military service bill, Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of war, opposing the amendments limiting the duration of the bill to December 31, 1919, instead of April 30, 1920, emphasized the fact that the British regard the army had visited Germany since November, the German cabinet has decided, according to the Kreuz Zeitung, that no persons from an allied country will henceforth be permitted to travel in Germany without special permission from the armistice commission.

Mr. Churchill said he had every hope, however, that the British foreign establishment would be on a voluntary basis before the end of the year.

Ships Sail for Food

London. — Eight German steamers, including the Kaiser, in August Victoria, Cleveland, Graf Waldersee and Pretoria, sailed from Hamburg for food stuffs, according to advices from Berlin. It is said that the crews of the ships made a formal demand that they should not be removed from the vessels during the trip.

Prefer to Become Outlaws

Hun President Says Unlawful Peace Cannot Be Signed

Berlin. — "Germany is prepared to sign peace but not prepared to commit herself," the Falschaff figure of Fritz Ebert, president of the new German republic, straightened in the chair and with a sonorous voice he continued: "If the peace terms mean suicide they will not be signed. Rather than political and economic death Germany will choose political and economic madness. If the entente offers us instead of a peace based on Mr. Wilson's fourteen points only a knife with which to commit harikari Germany goes Bolshevik." Germany joins the Russian soviet republic and Germany becomes an out-law nation."

Appeal Against Sentence

Paris. — An appeal has been entered against the death sentence passed on Emil Catin, the assassin of Premier Clemenceau.

Polish Situation Pitiful

Lebens Defended by Women, Children and Boy Scouts

Chicago. — In a letter received by John F. Smulik, president of the National Polish department, Madeline Paderewski, wife of the pianist and premier of Poland, described conditions in Poland as "pitiful," and said the Polish people was hungry and without clothes in zero weather, and lacked arms. The letter was dated January 28.

The city of Lemberg was without light, water, food, arms or ammunition, but was constantly bombarded, Mrs. Paderewski wrote. "It is defended by women, children and boy scouts," she added, and declared, "our enemies commit the most horrible atrocities."

"Some of the women taken prisoners were impaled on pickets," she wrote. "So were also six men who were then removed and buried in a heap and left to die slowly. Boy scouts were taken and tied together, three or four at a time, with barbed wire and then buried alive."

Continuing, the premier's wife asserted the Bolsheviks were burning, beheading or freezing Poles to death along the border. In Cieszyn the Czechs were killing and hanging, and the German army is advancing on Poznan. "We are in a trap. I must hold my heart with both hands for fear it will burst with pain," the letter concluded.

Invite British Fleet

Washington. — Navy department officials here said that they were during his trip abroad probably would invite the British fleet to New York for a visit during the coming summer.

Such an invitation was extended informally by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, who was in England last before the signing of the armistice.

German Parties Disagree

Independents Make Demand for Re-laxation of Government Rule

Berlin. — That the majority and independent socialist parties are irreconcilably split, is the common expression in political circles resulting from a speech by Wolfgang Heine, in the Prussian diet, made in reply to the demand of the independents for a repeal of martial law in Berlin.

Following closely upon Minister of Defense Noske's castigation of the independents at Weimar, Herr Heine who is Prussian minister of justice, and one of the majority leaders, presented a scathing indictment of the action of Hugo Haase, the independent leader, in which he reviewed the intimate co-operation existing between the independent and the Spartacists from the first day of the revolution.

Herr Heine told the independents that they were more concerned about Russia than about the welfare of Germany and said that it was not the Russian steam roller that brought about Germany's defeat, but Bolshevik infection and corruption paid with stolen Russian funds.

Herr Heine also held the independents responsible for the Spartacist activities of the fugitive police head, Eichhorn, and for the lawlessness of George Ledebour's marines, and charged that they precipitated the recent general strike without the slightest justification.

U. S. Senator Asked to Re-sign

Jefferson City, Mo. — James A. Reed, United States senator from Missouri, was called upon to resign his seat in the senate in resolutions adopted here by a conference of fifty of the sixty-seven democratic members of the house.

The action was taken, conference leaders announced, as a result of Senator Reed's opposition to the league which he attacked in the proposed league of nations.

Japanese Would Assert Their Rights

Offered Baltic Crown

Washington. — Arrival of a British squadron at Lihau with a British commission having military and political power to open relations with the Levantine government was announced in official dispatches quoting the British press bureau. Prince Adolf Friedrich of Mecklenburg is reported to have been offered the Baltic royal crown.

The Danish, delegates heavily concurred in the view of the British declaration that the question of the equality of treatment of all nationalities throughout the world, is not a matter for the league of nations. A prominent Australian expressed the opinion that the commonwealth was not prejudiced against the Japanese, but had a great admiration for them. Nevertheless, Australians believed that would be a mistake for the league of the world if each race should develop along its own distinctive lines.

Defends Ex-Kaiser

Von Hindenburg Makes Excuses for Flight Into Holland

Berlin. Aroused by recent criticisms of the former Emperor Wilhelm regarding his flight from Germany to Holland last fall, Field Marshal von Hindenburg has prepared and published here a defense of the ex-emperor's action.

After depicting the situation as it existed in November, caused by the weakening of the army, the doubtful reliability of the forces in the field, and the breaking out of the revolution at home, the field marshal writes: "The peaceful return home of the emperor then became impossible. I have been obliged to leave the country through the forceful employment of loyal troops and civil war would have been added to the hostilities with the enemy."

"The emperor could have taken himself to the fighting troops in order to meet the death at their hands in last attack on the enemy, but the armistice so tenderly desired by the people would thereby have been postponed and the lives of many soldiers uselessly sacrificed. The emperor finally, in agreement with his advisers, and after a severe mental struggle, decided to leave the country, solely in the hope that he could thereby best serve the fatherland, save Germany from further loss, distress and misery, and restore peace and order to Germany."

Mounted Police at Swift Current

Swift Current, Sask. — Swift Current is to be headquarters for a division of the reorganized Royal North West Mounted Police force. The local detachment will be in charge of Staff Sergeant Baxter and officers and men here of the force will be stationed here in this section, where he had served with the Mounties for several years previous to going overseas. Sergeant Baxter is at present in the city, awaiting instructions, having just arrived from France. The strength of the force to be stationed here has not yet been given out.

Britain Will Construct Giant Airplane

London. — Following successful trials of the British dirigibles of the rigid type of construction the government is considering the construction of a rigid dirigible of two enormous airships. Each will be 800 feet in length, and will have a capacity of 1,000,000 cubic feet. They will be driven by six engines which will generate a total of 1,800 horse power, and, it is said, will have a lifting power of 180 tons, compared with 29 tons, the largest load carried by any known to be in existence.

Disappointed Reims

Paris. — The population of Reims, which was 117,778 before the war, is now 8,453, according to a census just completed by the government. Of the 1,389,000 men, 323 were men and 1,813 children. Five hundred children attend school in the ruined city.

Allenby in Paris

Paris. — Gen. F. H. Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine, has arrived here from Egypt to advise the supreme council on near eastern questions.

World Plans to Prevent Future Wars

New York. — Because "there is some hope of making war impossible through a league of nations, but no hope of doing it in any other way," Major General Sir Frederick Maurice, former director of military operations of the British general staff, declared that he favored the project. The general, who held the military portfolio from 1915 to the early part of 1918, added his opinion that "a great majority" of the British people were enthusiastic for the league plan.

Restrict Liquor in West Africa

London. — The government has prohibited the importation of all spirits into the British West African colonies, except under license, which will not be granted for the importation of so-called "trade spirits," it was announced. This decision was taken as a preliminary measure, pending decision on the question of the permanent prohibition of the spirit trade in West Africa.

Paris. — A Japanese amendment to the covenant of the league of nations providing that the contracting parties shall agree to grant "equal and just treatment" to all alien within their borders, who are nationals of states that are members of the league, will be submitted to the supreme council, it is believed by Reuter's from Japanese sources.

The standpoint of the Japanese is that all citizens of nations deemed sufficiently advanced to become members of the league should have equal rights when travelling or living in foreign countries, it is said.

GET AFTER THOSE DOLLARS

Our town should get all of the trade in our trade area. We can't carry about our neighboring town's business. We have enough to do to take care of our own. But we should get all of our own. How about those dollars that are getting away from us? How about the dollars that are slipping through our fingers? We have the goods. We have the values. Our prices are right. And yet there is a lot of money slipping away from us constantly. The best way to get after this money is to tell the truth about the man or the system that is taking it away. Join the Trade-at-Home campaign.

Soldiers at Rhyol Camp Not Blamed For Revolt

Italy. — Lieut. Col. Pratt, O.C. of the 13th Infantry and member of the Ontario Legislature for Norfolk County, who returned to Canada on the Celtic, in an interview published in the Daily Echo, secretary of the United Canadian soldiers in Rhyol camp to the incompetency and unpreparedness of the department, of militia, which, judging by results, at the time the armistice was signed he said, was absolutely without any plan for the repatriation of Canadian soldiers.

"Argyll House is full of incompetents and dubs," said Lieut. Col. Pratt. "There are many officers there who have wrangled their way through the war praying to God that they would be able to hang on to that job."

"I have spoken to 102 officers on board the Celtic and every one of them has told me that they do not blame the soldiers at Rhyol camp for the action they had taken."

Must Suspend Hostilities

Paris. — Marshal Foch and other generals were called in during a protracted session of the supreme council to give their advice as to action which should be taken in Galicia, where Ukrainian forces are besieging Lemberg, which is threatened from three sides. It was decided that a sharp warning should be sent to both sides asking for a suspension of hostilities. The warning will take the form of an injunction to the two armies.

Restrict Liquor in West Africa

London. — The government has prohibited the importation of all spirits into the British West African colonies, except under license, which will not be granted for the importation of so-called "trade spirits," it was announced. This decision was taken as a preliminary measure, pending decision on the question of the permanent prohibition of the spirit trade in West Africa.

WAR ON BYNG'S STAFF.

Prime Arthur of Connaught has service with Canadians.

Well-known throughout the Canadian Army Corps in France is the Prime Arthur of Connaught, who recently visited Canada. The prince came to the corps as one of them. Byng and officers and stayed on after Gen. Currie's appointment, bidding goodbye to the Canadians when he was deputed by the King to go on the special mission to Japan.

Uncontentious, friendly and democratic, Major Prince Arthur was very popular with the Canadians, where he was a familiar figure in all parts of the corps area. So unobtrusive and devoid of circumstance is life at Corps Headquarters that visitors dining at Gen. Currie's hospital mess have been frequently surprised to suddenly discover that a certain major chap, who might pass for a young English soldier attached to the corps, or even for a native-born Canadian, with whom they had been in conversation, was none other than the son and heir of Canada's late Governor-General. For when the prince is introduced to visitors it is not customary to mention his name. Hence the handshakers often at first don't know who he is.

Prince Arthur is an interesting conversationalist. All who met him at once can testify to this. His fund of anecdote about well-known persons would make absorbing topics. Eager to learn the opinions of his neighbor on various subjects, he is always willing to return to express his own views—views of uncommon interest, based on their own extensive knowledge of the great world and the men who do things. A warm admirer of Theodore Roosevelt, and of the Americans generally, a prince, Japan, who is friendly, and whose people he has learned to know intimately from former visits, has always appeared most strongly to him.

At the staff college in France, where the prince took a course, along with a number of Canadian officers, he was known among his fellow-students as "Tip Art"—though, of course, etiquette forbade that over his intimates should use this nickname familiarly in such a manner. The name was evolved in much the same way as that which the Prince of Wales had some five years ago at Oxford, where King and cook's son alike have their nicknames.

When signing official documents in the course of his duties, the prince affixes the two initials "P.A." Now the army signifiers have occasion to use the letters of the alphabet singly and sometimes spelled out in words when sending messages over the field telephone. To avoid the possibility of mistake, certain letters somewhat akin to others are designated by a special code. For instance, over the phone, "B" sounds not unlike "C" or "D" or "E." To avoid confusion, "B" is represented by the word "beer," "C" is "cotton," "D" is "Emma," "E" is "pie," and "A" is "ack." Hence the play upon the prince's name.

Prince Arthur, who bade goodbye to the Canadian corps after a stay of some fifteen months, was in the front in September, 1914—a few weeks after the outbreak of hostilities, and with the exception of short leaves in England, had been there continuously until his late journey to Japan. Though his rank, like that of other royals who position in the state precludes them from being masters of their own movements, limited the prince to the staff job assigned him by imperial general headquarters in France, he has been frequently in the trenches, and time-consuming under attack shell fire. His knowledge of languages and wide experience make him an asset to the liaison work and he is often on the move between the Canadians and the various British and French units. And yet to friends the prince speaks with contemptuous indifference of his own and regrets most keenly that fortune has not permitted him a more active part.

A Severe Winter.

In a recent review of the severe winter of 1917-18 Dr. C. F. Brooks says that a temperature of 56 degrees below zero Fahrenheit was reported in December from the Upper Yukon, at the mouth of the Polyp river, and that this observation, if authentic, establishes a "record" for North America. The lowest temperature ever recorded in the world (regarding upper air observation) was 94.4 degrees below zero Fahrenheit at Verkhoyansk, Siberia, in 1922—Scientific American.

Located by Press Photograph.

As soldiers are forbidden to acquaint their relatives with their exact positions "nowhere in France," Pic. March 26 of Woodstock, hit upon a novel ruse to beat censorship. He had just received a copy of a local paper from home. So he wrote in reply "If you will look up the tented-lights of Woodstock in July you will see a picture of the ruined cathedral in this place."

Windsong Statue Has Close Call.

The fine bronze statue of a winged Mercury carrying a sheet of grain, which is to be the crowning jewel surrounding Manitoba's new Parliamentary pile, narrowly escaped destruction by a German shell in Paris last month. The building in which it had just been cast was partly destroyed.

Elephant Eats Too Much.

The Food Control Board in Winnipeg has been advised by a Shastavan clerkman that a baby elephant visiting his town with a travelling menagerie should be severely punished for eating too much. The animal consumes 350 pounds of wheat, milk and eggs per week. Otherwise, it will be asked to procure judgment.

FORESTRY POLICIES.

Canadians Help the Allies With Arms and Ammunition.

Timber for war purposes became urgently needed as the war went on, in 1914, British and French in the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Canada was asked to supply Canada's total reaction was instantaneous. Battalion after battalion of Canadian forestry corps was being sent to the front. The Canadian saws were musical over large areas of woodland in Great Britain and France.

Within three months from the receipt of the first forestry battalion, the detachment of the first forestry battalion recruited had established itself in Windsor Park, England, and was delivering timber to the Imperial authorities. One month later Gen. (then colonel) Alexander Macdougall reported favorably on certain forests offered by the French Government for exploitation, and in November, 1916, drafts of Canadian were leaving England to cut trees and saw logs across the channel.

Canada equipped its forestry forces with the best equipment available, split up into companies of about 120 men, were sent into the bush in widely scattered parts of Great Britain and France. Among them were some workers of some skill, and others—though every Canadian is "born" with an axe in his hand—had almost everything to learn about intensive forestry on a considerable scale. The companies had to get the feller and loaders, its sawmill, its saw logs, its practical experience, vegetable gardens, pigs and poultry were added to the equipment. The forestry corps form as hard-working forestry communities.

At present forty of these Canadian companies are operating in Great Britain and sixty in France. The total number of men engaged in the two countries is about 20,000. Of these some 800 are officers. Besides the Canadians working in Great Britain there are 313 Portuguese, 450 Poles and 563 prisoners of war. In France there are 1,000 Canadian forestry corps number nearly 5,000. While there have been no war casualties in the corps—though many of the men in the forestry corps have been under bombardment from the land and from the air—far far too many of the number of the present officers are men who have been wounded or who fell in battle service.

In the Old Days.

In the good old days in Toronto when the bars were open many of the best bartenders used to prohibit the war chatter of the whisky warriors. The result was that the opinion sometimes arose, and disputes and fights commonly occurred. "That's all right," said one bartender, "I tell you who put the war in Warsaw, it was the bloody whisky." He started to shoot a shot of local stout across the bar as follows:

"Warrior saw war,
Lots of war in Warsaw,
All the people were sore
To see the war in Warsaw.
Warrior saw more
Bloody war in Warsaw
Than any of us forewar.
Or any of us forewar."

That attack rather staggered the bartender, but he pulled himself together and came back with a punch:

"We've had enough of Warsaw,
And don't want no more,
So kindly hold your jaw, now,
Or get outside the door, now."

Joe James Was His Hero.

Floyd Walker, a 14-year-old Redd, Littleton, had been sent to the Reformatory at St. Catharines for two months as a result of his admission to a recent Sunday, when he first appropriated an automobile. He was then, he told the suitcase of Rev. Mr. Hilbertson of Toronto, with valuable documents and contents appropriated a rifle, ammunition, a month organ, two jack-knives and a silver watch; held up two men at the music of the rifle; and was captured while attempting to steal a horse.

Congratulations Dropped from Air.

While Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Drope, of Grimsby, were celebrating their silver wedding with an out-of-doors party, their residence, Captain Drope, R. A. F., circled over the hotel and dropped his written congratulations from the sky. The loving missive falling close to his mark, he was told by a Captain Leaside with the object of dropping it on the family.

Thirteen Unlucky Number for Sheep.

During a storm on Tuesday night, sheep huddled under a tree were killed by lightning on the farm of Mr. Martin Corbett of Hope Township. Another flock of lightning is reported from Golden Grove, and from County N.B., where a chicken was killed by a flash of lightning. A farmer was aiming his gun to shoot it.

The Changes Time Brings.

Illustrating the changes brought in the past century, a convention of Mic-Mac Indians of the Maritime Provinces was held recently for the purpose of electing a Grand Chief of the Tribe. Chief and committees were in evidence, the principle of proportional representation was adopted, and a preliminary procedure governed the election.

Long Journey to Answer Call.

Arthur Jan, a fur trader from Pelesta Barrow, had to travel 1,000 miles by canoe and a further 200 by train to answer his summons to report for military service. A medical board discovered that he was wholly unfit for the service, but was broken down by the journey.

THOUGHT -- ACTION

THE light of the between thought and action measures the magnitude of success. Thought is the seed, action is the fruit. The seed is the thought, the fruit is the action. A single seed sown in the soil will grow into a tree. A single thought sown in the mind will grow into a habit. A habit is a tree that bears fruit. A habit is a thought that has become an action. A habit is a thought that has become a way of life. A habit is a thought that has become a character. A habit is a thought that has become a destiny. A habit is a thought that has become a power. A habit is a thought that has become a glory. A habit is a thought that has become a kingdom. A habit is a thought that has become a God.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 30, RE-

VIEW—GOD'S HAND IN

A NATION'S LIFE

Since Israel was a theocratic nation, perhaps the best method of review is to trace God's hand in that nation's life. Israel was a clerk, clothed and disciplined by God.

Lesson 1. God's hand is clearly dis-cernible in the experience of Israel in Egypt. Israel was to be the religious teacher of the world, therefore the nation must sojourn in Egypt the most advanced in learning of any nation at that time. In order that Moses the great lawgiver, might be equipped with the best possible education, God used Pharaoh to oppress the people.

This oppression served a threefold purpose: (1) It served the testimony to the Egyptian nation that the God of Israel was the God of Israel. The more they oppressed him, the more they benefited him. (2) It served the purpose of suffering to bring the nation into its own life. (3) It made the nation willing to leave Egypt and go to Canaan, the promised land. Had not the hand of God been so manifestly shown, they would have chosen to remain in Goshen.

Lesson 2. When Israel was ready to go to Canaan, God had a leader ready for the difficult task. His name was Moses. He was a Hebrew, and he was a man of God. He was a man of God, and he was a man of Winnifred News

Mr. and Mrs. Bushing had a very agreeable surprise party, when one from among their hosts of friends decided on visiting them last Saturday night. A most enjoyable time was spent by all, which was only to be expected, because Mr. and Mrs. Bushing are so well known among a vast circle of friends as being most charming and hospitable as Host and Hostess, among many other entertainments were the following: progressive whist, Mrs. Alfred Lavery winning the Ladies' first prize which consisted of six beautiful Cutglass shotbats, cups; the first prize a box of cigars was won by Mr. McDonald; the consolation prizes being won by Mrs. E. Baker and Mr. Willard Long, both of whom received a very pretty set of cards. A sumptuous and delightful lunch was most deftly served to about 30 guests, who all rose with a satisfaction that was evident to all by the smiles on their faces, about midnight the guests departed for home, each one acclaiming what a fine time they had had.

Mrs. Bowerman entertained a few friends at their home this week a very enjoyable evening was spent playing cards etc.

There was a runaway horse at Winnifred this week Mrs. J. Fisher got quite a few bruises the buggy was overturned and quite badly damaged Mr. Fisher was entangled in the buggy robes being overturned and badly shaken up. But we are glad to report now that Mrs. J. Fisher is recovering after her severe shaking up.

The St. Patrick's Dance that was held in the Winnifred Hall on March 17th, was a decided success, the hall was tastefully decorated, and there was a large attendance Mr. and Mrs. Archie Houghlin were the musicians. At midnight an auction sale was held, and many articles that had been donated, were sold for the benefit of the Agriculture Society, the sum raised was something like two hundred dollars.

Good Advertising

We are glad to say that, owing to the big advertisement placed in "The Bow Island Review," and which was read by hundreds of people, the sale which commenced last Saturday at L. Perne's clothing store was a huge success, many Hundreds of Dollars being taken on that day alone. It fairly made the mouth water, just like cutting melons. This is a boost for Advertising, clearly showing that well worded Advertising does pay, although some antiquated storekeepers, who prove themselves much behind the times, maintain "It does not pay to Advertise."

But you can prove it to your own satisfaction and to the great benefit of your pocket book, by taking the time and trouble to sit down and think out a well worded, catch-the-eye and up-to-date advertisement.

Many men will spend valuable time puzzling about base-ball matches and other things, but when it comes to devoting their earnest thought and clear cut ideas on "Advertising the goods in their own store," they turn round and say, "It does not pay them to use their brains on the selling of their own goods, that if the farmers, want anything they usually are supposed to keep; well, the people know where their store is."

Such storekeepers who reason that way, are as Antiquated as Methuselah and the real men with "ginger" in them, use their clear brains and sharp wits to put together a "real snap-up-to-date advertisement" to draw the Crowds and the Cash, such live men fairly rush their rivals off their feet, and like a whirlwind, sweep past the Antiquated fossils.

"Helping out your local paper" by charitably allowing it to print something about your store in a paid space is not advertising.

Hastily writing some matter telling without going into details, that you will sell several merchandise, or any other goods, and then letting this stand week after week—this is not advertising.

Advertising is the art of telling people what you have to sell, what it looks like, and what you want for it. It is also the art of actually getting the message to the people, and persuading them to read it.

"Any merchant who is a 'real live wire' can write out his own advertisement, and need merely use 'copy' like a parrot, and when the customers come into his store, he does not stand with a lofty or bored expression on his face, waiting for his customers to humbly beg him to accept their orders; but he jumps right into business and, in a courteous and convincing manner, he speaks of the good qualities and moderate prices of his goods, to the great pleasure of his customers and in 999 cases out of a thousand he effects a good sale.

And that is the way that business men, like Mr. L. Perne, conduct their advertising and selling, why not you?

For advertising does pay and pays substantially, if done on business lines.

Take, as examples, the greatest Corporations of today, run by keen business men, Railways, Banks, Insurance companies of every description, they spend yearly tens of thousands of dollars in order to make Millions, they advertise to the limit.

In times of war, Governments advertise even for soldiers to help defend their country. Ministers of Finance advertise Victory and Liberty Loans as being the quickest way to get money into the Treasury.

And if you will only Advertise in an up-to-date manner, putting all your heart and soul into the telling of what you have to sell, then the money will flow that much swifter into your own treasury.

Come in and let us talk it over, together we may put up an Advertisement that will draw the Crowds and the Cash, and then you will be seen with one of those smiles that never come off. Just try it.

TRADE MARK

"Well Built"

The admiration for the Overland is due not only to its sturdy and graceful appearance but to its utility as well. Overland success is largely due to the fact that Overland owners have not only bought Overlands themselves but have enthusiastically recommended them to their friends.
